The Process

1. Book in your time slot for your session and plan your outfits and make this personal to you.
2. Shoot day
3. After your shoot I get to work editing and perfecting your gallery
4. You receive your gallery and pick your favourites.
5. You download, love and share your finished images
6. Upgrades available if you would like more images

WHAT TO EXPECT

This should be a really relaxed way of capturing such a special and unique moment in your life, your changing body should be celebrated. Take the opportunity to give yourself a little pamper, do you hair, makeup, nails... whatever makes you feel nice.

I know that having our photos taken can be daunting and we can feel a little awkward. We will pop some music on and I'll help guide you into poses and make sure you're comfortable.

Your partner is very welcome to be in the photos with you. If you already have children they are also welcome, but depending on their ages and the nature of the session being quite quick, I can't guarantee any pictures with them if they aren't happy to get involved. Please feel free to message and we can chat this through.

WHAT TO WEAR

I recommend you choose clothes in natural/neutral earthy colours.

It's great to have a few different outfits to change into, or accessories to add. This gives your gallery variety.

If you're happy to expose your bump for pictures, consider the bra you would like to wear.

Styles that work well;

- Long dresses that show off your bump nicely.
- Long cardigans as they are a lovely way of flattering your bump.
- Oversized white shirts/denim shirts
- Open jeans

Make sure you are comfortable.

Feel free to message me if you want some help deciding!

I also have a few dresses you are welcome to wear for your session. It's a good idea to wear nude or white underwear as a lot of the dresses are white!
